OLA-LA-LA, JIM!

The Cynthiana Democrat has the following editorialettes in the "Pert and Pertinent" column:

"THE BOURBON NEWS claims a compromise is when a man agrees to let his wife have what she wants if she will shut up."

"Press telegrams carry a story that Jaynes Savage, of Paris, caught two 14-inch bass with a single shiner on a single hook. Why, Jaynes!"

"The BOURBON NEWS tells of a fibrous substance resembling human hair, seven feet long, which Mr. J. T. Wornall, of Cynthiana, found growing in his cistern and took to a newspaper office in Paris. And just to think we have been eating peanuts by the peck when a whole cistern full of hair tonic was right here in Cynthiana."

HAS ARM BROKEN

Ed Paton, in the employe of the Home Telephone Company, at Millersburg, sustained a dislocated shoulder bone and fracture of the bone in the arm, while helping to set a telephone pole in position. He was brought to the Massie Memorial Hospital, in this city, where his injuries were given medical attention, and the patient made comfortable.

DAVIDSON

—Rev. W. R. Davidson, well-known in Paris, died at Danville, while visiting his daughters there. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. R. H. Patterson, of Paris five daughters, Mrs. Geo. Caswell and Miss Irene Davidson, of Lexington, Mrs. Wm. Rynieron and Mrs. A. L. Gates, of Danville, and one son, W. W. Davidson, of Cincinnati. The funeral and interment took place in the Lexington Cemetery, Wednesday.

JONES

—Frank N. Jones, aged sixty-three, a prominent farmer of Harrison county, died at the Harrison County Hospital, in Cynthiana, Monday evening, following an operation for adhesions. He was a son of the late James and Melissa Jones, a prominent churchman, member of the Masonic and Odd Fellows orders, and an excellent citizen. He was a brother of Joel and Bob Jones, of Bourbon county.

The funeral was held at his late residence near Cynthiana, Wednesday afternoon, with services conducted by Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church, his former pastor. The burial took place on the family lot in Battle Grove Cemetery, in Cynthiana, where the committal services at the grave were in charge of the Cynthiana Masonic and Odd Fellows lodges.

SHY

—Following a lingering illness extending over a period of several years, Mrs. Theodosia Hopper Shy, aged sixty-one, died at her home on Seventh street, at four o'clock, Tuesday morning. Mrs. Shy had been afflicted from childhood with a malady which defied medical skill.

Mrs. Shy was a native of Nicholas county, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hopper, and was the wife of John D. Shy, of Paris, to whom she was married February 11, 1879. Of this union four children were born, all being at the bedside of their mother when the end came. Mrs. Shy was a faithful member of the Methodist church, and her children have followed in her footsteps. She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Mrs. W. C. Bell and Mrs. Luther McIntyre, of Paris; two sons, Perry M. Shy, of Winchester, and Homer D. Shy, of Paris, and one brother, A. E. Hopper, of Detroit, Mich.

The funeral was held at the grave in the Paris Cemetery, at ten o'clock, Wednesday morning, with services conducted by Rev. W. M. Williams, pastor of Hutchison Chapel. The pall-bearers were N. A. Moore, M. F. Kenney, E. B. January, E. T. Rule, Jas. M. Russell and John McCarthy.

STIVERS

—James B. Stivers, aged fifty-two, for many years a business man of Paris, died at his residence on High street, in this city, at eight o'clock, Wednesday night, following a long illness due to Bright's disease and complications.

Mr. Stivers was a son of the late Major and Mrs. Joseph W. Stivers, pioneer residents of Paris, who preceded him to the grave many years ago. His father was a drummer boy in the Mexican War, and served through the Civil War as a member of the Fourteenth U. S. Cavalry, rising to the rank of major in the service. He was the inventor of the now famous Stivers bluegrass seed stripper, and was engaged in farming on the Bethlehem pike, near Paris.

James B. Stivers was for many years actively identified with the business life of Paris. In connection with the late Thompson H. Tarr, of Paris, he organized the Bourbon Lumber Company, in this city, in which business he was engaged until failing health forced his retirement. Mr. Stivers was prominently identified with many of the secret orders of the city, and held the office of secretary in the Odd Fellows lodge for a long term of years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret McDowell Stivers, of Paris; three sisters, Mrs. John M. Wood, of Winchester, Mrs. A. L. Burley and Mrs. L. B. Keal, of Paris, and two brothers, J. Hooker Stivers, of Paris, and Rufus Stivers, of Livingston. He was a brother of the late Sherman H. Stivers, well known Paris newspaper man.

The funeral will be held at the family home on High street this (Friday) afternoon, at two o'clock, with services conducted by Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church. The interment will follow on the family lot in the Paris Cemetery. The pall-bearers will be: M. J. Lavin, John DeJarnett, J. W. Bacon, Charles A. Webber, H. C. McDowell and Elmer Linville.

BLUEGRASS SEED GROWERS HOLD CONFERENCE

A conference was held in Paris, Tuesday between officials of the newly-organized Bluegrass Seed Growers' Association and Bourbon county farmers. Seed men from Lexington, Winchester, Mt. Sterling and Paris attended the meeting. While no figures were given out it was said that the pool promoters had succeeded in signing up practically eighty per cent. of the 1932 yield in the State, of which Bourbon county would furnish close to 175,000 bushels. While no prices have been set it was stated that the opening price to be asked would be close around $1.50 per bushel.

Contracts were made Wednesday by the Association with several cleaning firms, among them J. S. Wilson & Bro., Spears & Sons and the C. S. Brent Co., of Paris, to clean and store the 1932 crop of bluegrass seed, according to an announcement made in Lexington yesterday by a member of the organization.

OLDEST CONGRESSMAN, LINCOLN DOUBLE, DEAD

Maj. Job E. Stevenson, 93 years old, believed to be the oldest former Congressman in the United States, died at his home in Corinth, Grant county, late Tuesday night. Major Stevenson served two terms in Congress, in 1872 and 1876, with "Uncle Joe" Cannon. Major Stevenson remembered Abraham Lincoln quite well and often boasted that he bore a striking resemblance to the martyred President. He served throughout the war between the States and held the rank of Major at its close. He is survived by his wife and two daughters. Funeral services were conducted at the residence and the body was taken to Circleville, Ohio, for burial.

There is a wave of business revival; but some men are kicking because it isn't a flood.

Isn't it about time to change the saying, "That's a horse on me," to "That's an auto on me?"

AIN'T DIS A SHAME?

Some enterprising "hootch" dispenser of this or some other community is out two quarts of apparently good moonshine whiskey as the result of misplaced confidence in his ability to locate the treasure after secreting it.

Yesterday afternoon Patrolman George W. Judy, while at the Interurban station, at the corner of Fifth and High streets, had occasion to investigate an ante-room in the colored department, and while searching around saw the necks of two bottles protruding near the top of a seat. When the officer drew forth the articles they were full of moonshine. Patrolman Judy took the "hootch" to the office of Sheriff Collier, in the court house, and returning to the station, made inquiries, but no one knew anything about the liquor being there, or how it came to be there.

RECOVERS STOLEN AUTOMOBILE

John A. Bower, chief clerk in the office of Superintendent J. A. Morrison, of the L. & N., at this point, has recovered his automobile, stolen from his garage on Cypress street about a year ago. The car was located at Ashland through the efforts of Chief of Police Link. Mr. Bower went to Ashland and returned with the car, which, he stated, was in first-class condition, having been recently overhauled, in addition to having a new set of tires.

The auto was found in the possession of a man who, it was alleged, purchased the car from his brother, who, in turn, alleged that he received it as collateral in a game of poker.
